POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Initiative petitions seeking repeal of the state income tax will be placed in circulation within the next few weeks, according to reports in political circles, as the spearhead of a drive to eliminate unnecessary state taxes during the war period when federal levies are certain to cut deeply into family incomes.

The income tax repealer, if it qualifies for a place on the ballot, will go before the people at the November election.

The taxpayer organizations sponsoring the repeal movement plan to base their campaign on the following points:

1. California taxpayers, if compelled to continue to pay the state income tax on top of their federal tax, will be at a sharp disadvantage during the critical war years when the greatest sacrifices will be required to meet the needs of the national government. Federal income tax rates have been drastically increased and exemptions lowered, but most states, unlike California, do not collect a state income tax.

2. State tax collections are greatly exceeding state expenditures and the loss of the $20,000,000 a year now derived from the income tax would not jeopardize the state's financial position. On the other hand, a reduction in the state's tax demands would help taxpayers in meeting their greatly increased Federal tax bills and in buying defense stamps and bonds thereby aiding the war effort.

Contributing to the political popularity of the repeal drive, according to its sponsors, is the fact that the income tax, which was once considered a tax on the classes, has now become a tax on the masses—reaching into the pocketbook of nearly everyone who earns a living income.

In March, when taxpayers start making their returns under the new Federal act, millions of citizens will pay an income tax for the first time in their lives. And millions of others ,who have paid a small tax in the past will look at the size of their bill with unbelieving eyes. In California, with the state tax added to the federal tax, the net result is bound to be staggering. In many homes, it will undoubtedly mean a restricted family budget and a lower standard of living.

Tax groups backing the fight to repeal the state income levy declare that they expect just as much support from the little taxpayer as big. And while the repealer can't go into effect in time to alter this year's tax payments (which are based on last year's earnings), the bills received in March will doubtless have a pronounced influence on the readiness with which voters sign repeal petitions when they are presented shortly thereafter.

Last Rites for Louis Castro Held Monday

Funeral services for Louis W. Castro were held Monday afternoon from the Rutherford funeral home, conducted by Morning Light Lodge, No. 42, I. O. O. F. Noble Grand H. Nielson and chaplain William H. Coupland conducted the service.

David Rutherford, accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Rutherford sang, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "It is Well With My Soul."

Castro had lived in this community for more than 20 years, for several of which he conducted a blacksmith shop. His forebears were early California settlers having a land grant from the Spanish government in Santa Cruz county. He passed away at the age of 65 in a San Jose hospital after an extended illness.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Adeline Castro, two step children, Marshal and Alva McGimsey; sisters, Mrs. Pauline Peterson of Campbell; Mrs. Josie Carney, Santa Cruz; and Mrs. Lucy Randolph, Redwood City and a brother, Frank Castro of Cleveland, Ohio.

GARDENS NEEDED FOR DEFENSE

Superintendent of Santa Clara county schools, Britton, has asked that every school and every student in Santa Clara county plant a home garden.

The defense quota of home gardens for California is set at 90,000, and this can be accomplished only by the cooperation of everyone.

A demonstrations garden has been put directly in front of the Campbell High school shop, and any information needed on gardening can be obtained from Kenneth Dwelley, who is in charge of this project in Campbell High and various other schools throughout the county.

Vegetables this year will be very expensive due to the great shortage of labor. By planting a home garden,.home expenses will be lowered and commercially grown vegetables will be released for defense use.

Very little irrigation is needed in caring for a winter garden. Such vegetables as carrots, beets, radishes, Swiss chard, turnips, lettuce, spinach and peas can be grown successfully now; followed in March or April by sweet corn, tomatoes, squash and string beans. The plot should be fertilized with barn yard manure if it is available.

Former Pastor Here Dies On Eve of Retirement

Rev. George Ernest Atkinson, 69, pastor of the First Congregational church at Sebastopol was to have preached the farewell sermon last Sunday which would mark his retirement from the ministry after forty years of service.

The church, of which he had been pastor for the past twelve years, had been decorated and arrangements had been made for hymns of his own composition to be sung.

But early Saturday, the Reverend Atkinson, who had been in ill health for some time, died at his residence from a heart ailment and parishioners gathered instead to pay him final tribute at funeral services.

The news of the death of Reverend Atkinson brought sorrow to many of Campbell's residents and young people gone out from this community who were members of the Congregational Sunday school and church during his years as minister here.

Resigning from the Campbell church, he went to Martinez for a few years, and then to Ceres. His acceptance of the call to Sebastopol was his final charge.

Reverend Atkinson was the second pastor of the Campbell church from Sept. 1903 to August 1916, and during his pastorate the church grew materially and the Searchlight class of the Sunday school of which he was leader was especially popular.

He was very much interested in Boy Scouting and had attained high honors from the national organization.

Reverend Atkinson, who was born in India, where his father was a misionary, is survived by his widow, Orill, and three children, Mrs. Calista Schuyler, wife of George Schuyler, Pacific Grove, Mrs. Orill Stedman, Sebastopol, and William Bryce Atkinson, Berkeley, who holds a high position with the F. E. Booth Co., food packers.

Settlers' Day Committees Are Appointed

The chamber of commerce held its regular meeting on Monday evening, Jan. 12 and voted to discontinue lighting of the Campbell signs at the east and west ends of Campbell avenue during the emergency.

The members also voted to discontinue the services of the night patrolman as of Jan. 19, 1942. Frank Weeks who has held this position stated that unless he received added compensation he could not continue in his present position and the chamber then voted that unless more merchants and residents signed up with Mr. Weeks, Campbell would be without police protection at night after Jan. 19.

John Breeding was made general chairman of Old Settlers' Day in place of Guy E. Farley who was unable to serve because of Red Cross and other duties. Richard Knappen was made publicity director for Old Settlers' Day.

A committee consisting of H. M. Shadle, S. N. Hedegard and Martin S. Walsh, was appointed to interview the sheriff and supervisors to see what help could be obtained to remedy the night patrolman situation.

J. KNOWLES RE-ELECTED

J. W. Knowles was reelected Tuesday as district director of the Santa Clara district of the Poultry Producers of Central California, a cooperative organization. The unanimous choice of the district members, he will represent them on the cooperative's board of directors.

Master M. F. Hughes put the grange under special order of business and the election of the directors took place. Members elected were: W. W. Lester, Mervyn Keesling, Lambert Skillman, Stanley B. Smith and Harry Barnes.

Chairman of the board W. W. Lester, stated that the board recommended placing the grange building fund in defense bonds ,and wished the grange to take action on it. The board was commended for their stand in the matter and a motion was passed by a unanimous vote that not less than $5,500 would go into bonds. The exact amount and kind of bond to be at the discretion of the board.

The grange voted a resolution to be sent to the state legislature urging their speedy action on an adequate appropriation to enlarge the state guard, and asking them to leave all political issues out.

New committees were appointed for the year, including the special committee to carry out the seven point program to aid defense laid out by the state grange.

Footlighters See One-Act Play

The Footlighters met in the hall Tuesday evening with LBen Howard presiding at the business session. The members voted to give $10 to the Red Cross. The directors of the play for Old Settlers' day distributed scrips to the members taking part and rehearsals will start next week.

After general discussions the members enjoyed two beautifully rendered vocal duets, by Mrs. Howard Church and Paul Becker, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Virginia Rutherford. This was followed by a hilarious one-act farce "The Dime Lunch" in which Bud Levenberg, Merle Knappen, Elfrieda Anderson, Ray Fish, Milton Herold, Ida Levenberg and Archie Keesling took part. Lenore Weaver was the very efficient director and Edith Morley and Archie Keesling assisted in the arrangements.

Cider and doughnuts were served by a committee composed of Helen Wrigglesworth, Martha Parr, and Madeleine Byrnes.

Contributions To Special Fire Dept. Fund

When civilian defense made necessary a twenty-four hour attendant at the fire house, volunteers were found for four hour day shifts, and one of the fire company sleeps in the building.

Then it became evident that it was essential that some facilities were necessary, as there was no water in the building or any other toilet arrangements.

This week William Wardwell of San Jose-Los Gatos road, who although out of the fire district, is giving his services as one of the attendants, has started collecting funds to make the necessary improvements.

The money is placed in a fund from which no money can be paid out without the signatures of Frank Blaine, treasurer; Jack Scott, fire chief; and Ethan Lanphear, of the fire commission.

Contributors to January 14 are:

Mr. and Mrs. Wardwell, A. T. Davey, W. N. Lloyd, Drew Canning Co., Campbell Water Co., Ralph H. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sanfillipo, Dan Clark, Ray Mathis, Thomas Shaves, Fred Jones, Nelson Grain Co., Anthony Raffanti, Guy E. Farley, R. H. Knappen, G. E. Jeffers, John D. ## THE BIG PARADE — 1942

Now the mightiest nation of the earth, America prepares to mobilize her strength precisely as the pioneers of 1620 mobilized to defend their tiny settlements. Outside the Puritan stockade was the hostile wilderness and crafty Indian; and for security against those dangers every pioneer—old and young, strong and weak—had his task; to fight, to stand guard, to hunt, to spin and weave, to plant and harvest, to chop and haul, to make and mend.

Today America calls upon all her manpower—45,000,000 men, aged 18 to 64! Each man will contribute his strength and talents as the pioneers contributed: Some to fight, some to stand guard at home, some to forge the metals of war, some to plant and harvest, make and mend.

Women, too, are mobilizing for special duties. It is the wise way, the oldtime American way. It was the way of a handful of Pilgrims fighting for freedom in 1620. It is the way of a nation grown to many millions—The Big Parade of Americans fighting for freedom in 1942.

SPARE THOSE TIRES!

(Waste of Material Is Aid to Japs)

Rigid rationing of tires has brought the reality of war home to every motorist and truck owner. But to every patriotic motorist his personal inconvenience is of minor concern in light of the grave import of national shortages in essential war materials.

Since tire rationing was proclaimed, the Navy has asked the public to turn in all corks from bottles and rubber scraps in form of sample sections of tires. Why? The corks are needed in the treatment of fracture cases to cover the ends of pins in the plaster casts, and rubber is needed for attachment to the bottoms of walking irons attached to casts on broken legs.

Those are grim needs. But the war is grim—and waste is grimly serious. Don't throw away paper, rubber, wool, cork or metal of any kind, and watch the papers for lists of vital materials to be conserved in home and business. Let tires be a symbol of conservation. Don't scrape rubber from tire treads by sudden starts, stops, excessive speeds. Don't waste anything. Don't abuse any equipment you use. Waste not — and win the war.

DAMAGED GOODS

Has the fifth column really gone? Doubtless most of the paid foreign agents are under lock and key. Yet rumors and hot tips continue scurrying around, creating suspicion and uneasiness—two evils showing how ably Dame Rumor can serve as a stand-in for the fifth columnist.

It's human nature to gossip, and the more startling and unbelievable the gossip is, the faster it travels. No official bans will ever completely suppress the dissemination of unfounded or distorted reports. But at the least, we should pledge ourselves to treat such stories with skepticism, knowing that if there was a grain of truth in the original report, by the time it has reached the fourth or fifth party, even its original author wouldn't recognize it. Rumors are damaged goods. Return to sender unclaimed.

A BOND OF UNITY.—The handclasp of sincerity and partnership is used by artist John C. Atherton, of Bridgefield, Conn., to depict the close cooperation of the American people and their Government in financing the Defense Program through the sale of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps. This poster was awarded first prize at the Museum of Modern Art exhibit in New York out of a large number of submitted drawings, and is being used on posters by business firms in advertising, and in numerous other forms to promote the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Grapplers Surprise San Jose Matmen

Campbell High school's wrestling team "surprised" a highly esteemed San Jose High team by beginning the dual meet Friday, Jan. 9, with wins in the first three classes by falls, although the score was 26 to 20 in San Jose's favor.

Individual performers deserve credit in this column. Zeke Wada won his first match; Captain Uchiyama pinned his opponent in 1:21; Jimmie Oyama pinned his foe in 1:16; Ciro Mancuso pinned his opponent in 3:06; and all other wrestlers received Coach Herbert Hudson's praise.

The second teams also had several matches. and Campbell showed well in these with two wins, a draw and two losses.

Race Reveals Good Milers

Five entrants competed in the cross country race of one and one-half miles, sponsored by track coach, Harold Drummond of the Campbell High school.

The favorite, Roy Van Gorkam, found himself up against stiff competition in his first distance run, with Richard Todd finished but five steps behind him. With better timing Todd might have been first. Gilbert Freitas, dark horse of the run came in third. Charles Dondero and Todd Mansfield finished fourth and fifth respectively. The winner made the distance in 7:53:5. The first three places were awarded prizes by Coach Drummond.

Mentor Drummond said that the race had revealed several good milers for the track team this spring.

The Congregational Guild is holding an important meeting today, preceded by a luncheon at 1 o'clock and a short program.

Mrs. W. R. Coupland was taken to the hospital last Thursday suffering from a heart attack and was brought home Saturday. Oxygen treatments had relieved the acute condition.

USE THIS EASY method of paying your Income Taxes: deposit one-twelfth of the taxes each month in your Savings Account. Thus you will always have the money ready for each quarterly installment when you need it. That method is a lot more conducive to peace of mind than trying to meet an entire quarterly installment out of one month's wages.

This same wise system is recommended for meeting not only your Income Taxes but other large fixed expenses such as real estate taxes, insurance premiums, etc.

Kiwanians Hear High Orchestra

Kiwanians were given a rare treat at last Tuesday's meeting when the high school orchestra, under the direction of Kenneth McDonnell, presented a most interesting program of varied music.

The program was highlighted by the announcing of Carl Sorenson, violinist; the outstanding violin playing of Russell Wolfram, voilinist, in the orchestral arrangement of "Intermezzo"; and the vocal solos and duets, with orchestral accompaniment, by Teresa Conetto and Bennie Carvelho. The Kiwanis members were unanimous in their praise that it was one of the outstanding programs of the year.

Next week Rev. J. H. Bennett will present Rev. H. H. Powell of Los Gatos, who will tell of the purposes ,aims, and activities of the U. S. O.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"Storm" by George R. Stewart.

With the intensity and force of a storm, a snow, wind or any other kind of storm, this book pushes its way into your inner self. It gets you. It holds you within its dramatic elements like a storm grasps its victims, and carries you with it within its vortex from the very first word, skipping not a single sentence, through to the last page.

From the very minute that the storm begins to form in the far Arctic "swifter than Tartar, more terrible than Mongol, more pitiless than Manchu, it swept down upon the plains of China . . . . but still, east by south, the river of air flowed on across the China Sea toward the far reaches of the Pacific," its progress is watched and followed by the new junior meterologist in San Francisco.

This is not a purely scientific book, dealing only in scientific terms. It is a novel. Though the author states that the characters, including Maria—his chosen name for the storm—are imaginary, he has depicted each one sharply and has given life and action to them, making them living people like the ones you meet and discuss the weather with every day.

In the space of twelve days George Stewart covers the 'Storm.' He introduces you to people—fellows who tend the highways in the Sierras, business men, ranchers and farmers, executives of vast industries and pilots of the giant China Clippers who fly the oceans. By introducing them to you he prepares you for the coming of the storm. And when the storm hits you are ready to witness the effect of it on those people. A more dramatic and awe inspiring piece of writing is rare. Dynamic in its simple narration — beautiful in its literary aptness — George Stewart's "Storm" is a book destined to be read and enjoyed by millions for many, many years to come.

WOMEN FROM RURAL HOMES ENTER ARMY SERVICE

MRS. MERYL P. STONE

Women as well as men on the farms and in the villages and small towns of the country are forging to the front in America's united war effort.

The 2,000,000 men in our Army are not only supported by the patriotic civilian work of an increasing number of women and girls who are rendering efficient service in their home communities, but thousands of wives, sisters and sweethearts of the men in the combat forces are enrolling for active duty. Those now engaged in full time activities are members of the Army Nurse Corps, Reserve Nurses, hostesses in the various cantonments and dieticians in the hospitals and food consultants in the War Department and the camps.

Four-H Clubs have furnished ideal training for many young women now serving in auxiliary branches of our Army, according to a recent announcement by authorities in Washington. Conspicuous among the 4-H Clubbers now working for Uncle Sam is Mrs. Meryl P. Stone, designated as an associate of Miss Mary Barber, food consultant to the Secretary of War. It is Mrs. Stone's job to assist with menus for the soldiers in the camps and in the field. She will sample the "chow" and will be available for conferences at the Army Bakers and Cooks schools.

Mrs. Stone declares that the foundation for her present post was built during her 4-H Club days in her home town of Black Earth, Wisconsin. (That quaint name, by the way, comes from the dark, rich soil in the valley of the Wisconsin river.) A 4-H Club flourished in her community and Mrs. Stone was one of its active members. Under her leadership the Black Earth organization won honors at a county fair for skill in sewing.

After high school Mrs. Stone entered the University of Wisconsin to major in home economics. Following her graduation she served an internship as a future dietician at the University of Michigan and established a training course in dietetics for student nurses at a Detroit hospital.

Going to New York she joined the staff of a large commercial concern and continued her work in preparing recipes and balancing their caloric contents for hotels, schools, hospitals and other institutions. Romance and marriage came for the former Wisconsin 4-H Club girl and last summer with her lawyer husband, she moved to Washington, where she continued active in her chosen field.

The story of her career is not unlike that of many other women on duty for our Army, as shown by the files of the War Department. Four-H Club girls recruited from various sections of the country have answered the call to service and are giving the Government the benefit of their skill, thrift and efficient training. As home demonstration agents, many young women from rural communities are strengthening the civilian forces, and in other fields they have shown resourcefulness and initiative in their patriotic efforts for the nation's defense.

"My Sister Eileen" Comes to Geary Theater Saturday

The nation's newest comedy riot, "My Sister Eileen," which has achieved runs of more than a year in New York and eight months in Chicago, will open a limited engagement at the Geary theater, San Francisco, on Saturday night, Jan. 17.

The comedy, adapted by two ace Hollywood scenarists from the whimsical short stories by Ruth McKenney in The New Yorker, opened in New York on Dec. 26, 1940, and was acclaimed by the critics for its mirth-provoking qualities. Walter Winchell called it "a honey of a show. You will enjoy every minute."

The comedy is concerned with the adventures of Ruth and Eileen Shewood, sisters of Columbus, Ohio, who come to New York in search of careers, Ruth has writing ambitions, while Eileen, more attractive, seeks to become an actress.

They lease an apartment in a semi-basement studio building owned by Mr. Appopolous, who boasts that his dwelling has quartered many great artists and writers in its day, and that he is the greatest of them all.

Miss McKenney's sketches have been woven into a comedy fabric as wacky as could be desired. Under the inventive direction of the noted George S. Kaufman, the work has been turned into a sort of burlesque "Street Scene," with half the action taking place in the apartment and half on the sidewalk outside. A big curtainless window below the pavement level lets in the noise, the peeping Tome and all the gusty and gaudy color of life in the Greenwich Village art colony.

Featured in the cast are Guy Robertson, Marcy Wescott and Philip Loeb.

There will be Sunday performances at the Geary, with popular matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

MRS. HUGHES GIVEN PARTY

Friday evening, Jan. 9, Hazel Wilson gave a dinner party at the M. F. Hughes home on Hamilton avenue, honoring her sister Mrs. M. F. Hughes' birthday.

A novel arrangement of place cards caused much excitement and fun in the guests finding their places.

After the dinner Mrs. Hughes was given a shower of flower pots, something her friends had heard her wish for, for her begonia plants.

The rest of the evening was spent in music and games.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

The motorist who travels at break-neck speed, with the throttle pushed down to the floor-boards, may cover the distance between two points in the shortest time possible, but at the end of the trip he seldom remembers much of the territory he covered.

There may have been beauty and the drama of life on both sides of the highway—scenes more lovely than a gifted artist's masterpiece—but in the speed-burner's mind there is simply a blurred vision of flashing telephon poles, passing cars and near crack-ups.

He has made a trip, but missed a journey. He has cut five minutes from his usual driving time, but missed a sunset.

In the rush of modern-day life, too, men read more than they think. They skim headlines—and gobble up news like they gobble up distance on the highways. Often the significance of the news is wholly lost. It is a half-digested lump in the mental stomach. During recent years America has been so busy going places that often we had no idea why we were going there, or what we would find when we got there.

That condition is exceedingly dangerous in a democracy, for democracies are as strong or as weak as the people who comprise them. If the people are rattle-brained or too busy with their own affairs to care much about their government's affairs, then their government is likely to be rattle-brained, too—and lacking in proper regard for the rights of the governed.

With the world's very foundations shaken by a war of such terrifying magnitude that all of us should be shocked into a new awareness of our responsibilities as citizens, perhaps it is time to start reading between the lines—cautiously interpreting the momentous events going on about us. Perhaps it is time to rid ourselves of habits of mental indolence and do a little serious thinking and analyzing.

May we illustrate:

Recently it was announced that American railroad men had been granted another wage increase by the railroads. We do not intend to argue the merits or demerits of that increase, or whether it should or shouldn't have been granted.

The important thing is that most of us—unless we stopped to think — would probably dismiss the news with the comment: "Well, I see the railroads finally capitulated and gave the boys a raise!" Or if we didin't approve of the methods used to achieve the raise we might comment: "It's about time the government stopped giving in to these strike bosses; it's time business stopped giving in, too!"

But the other fact—the over-looked fact—is that the railroads haven't given the railroad men anything! That raise will be paid by farmers and other shippers—and by the men and women of America who ride the trains. The government and the railroads may have granted it, but we will pay it!

That's how the news reads when we analyze it, for a few days after the first announcement there was a second announcement: The nation's railroads had petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for increased freight and passenger rates which would produce approximately $356,525,000 in additional revenue annually. That they estimated, was what the recent pay increase would cost them.

Again, we aren't arguing for or against the requested rate increase. We are merely pointing out that if we laugh when the railroads have to knuckle under and grant a pay boost, the joke is on us. We pay it! The railroads probably couldn't operate if we didn't ,because the railroads have only the money to do business with—to pay wages and taxes, for instance —which they collect from their shippers and passengers.

It's not the news you read that counts; it's how you read it. Let's start thinking. It might save us a lot of headaches.

Income Tax Information

Every single person having a gross income of $750 or more; every married person, not living with husband or wife, and having a gross income of $750 or more; and married persons living with husband or wife, who have an aggregate gross income of $1,500 or more, MUST FILE A RETURN.

The returns MUST be filed for the calendar year 1941, on or before March 16, 1942. For the fiscal year, on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year.

Income tax returns must be filed in the internal revenue district in which the person lives or has his chief place of business, and with the collector of internal revenue.

To make out income tax returns follow the detailed instructions given on the income tax blanks, Form 1040 and Form 1040A (optional simplified form).

The tax rate is 4 per cent on the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits against net income in the computation of the normal tax net income; and a graduated surtax on the amount of net income in excess of the allowable credits against net income in the computation of the surtax net income.

Forms for filing returns of income for 1941 have been sent to persons who filed returns last year. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay the tax on time.

Forms may be obtained upon request, written or personal, from the offices of collectors and from deputy collectors of internal revenue.

A person should file his return on Form 1040, unless his gross income for 1941 does not exceed $3,000 and consists of salary, wages, or other compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities, or royalties, in which event he may elect to file it on Form 1040A, a simplified form on which the tax may be readily ascertained by reference to a table contained in the form.

The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments due on or before March 16, June 15, Sept. 15 and Dec. 15.

Remember that single persons or married persons not living with husband or wife, who earn as much as $14.43 a week for the 52 weeks of the year, and married persons living together who have aggregate earnings of as much as $28.85 a week for the year are required to file returns.

"Gee! I Like This!"

When Charles or Catherine tastes a dessert and remarks "Gee! I like this!" you feel much better than when you hear "I don't want any!" —even though you may not approve of the slang.

It's very difficult to induce some children to drink milk. Tell them it is Nature's most nearly perfect food, and you are merely wasting words and time. But fix up your milk as a pudding or rennet-custard and a victory is yours—for children cannot resist desserts.

Here's a relatively inexpensive dessert that will provide plenty of milk and other nourishing foods. No eggs, no baking, or no boiling. An adult dish as well as one for the children. Just the thing for an after-school dinner or a before-bed bite:

Banana Royal

1 package orange rennet powder
4 pieces sponge cake (leftover cake may be used)
1 pint milk, ordinary or homogenized
1 banana

Place the pieces of cake (about two inches square or smaller) in the bottom of the dessert dishes. Make rennet-custards according to directions on package, and pour immediately over pieces of cake. Do not move until firm — about 10 minutes. Chill in refrigerator. When ready to serve, put slices of banana on top of each rennet-custard.

Drew Canning company started its pack of spinach Tuesday morning with over 100 employed outside the regular employees. Most of the pack will be purchased by the government, it is reported.
